A SOLID FRONT FOR COLQUITT.

LEXINGTON, August 20.—I have interviewed mber of the most prominent citizens from all tions of Ogleshorpe county in reference to the ections of Ogeomorpe county in reference to the cent gubernatorial convention. Our best etit-ens express in unqualified language their indig-ation at the action of the minority in their at-impt to destroy the unity of the democratic party. Hon. Ardurr Haire, who has been chairman of the democratic party in the county for many years, says: "I consider the recommendation of Colquit equivalent to a nomination, and every true democrat will support him. Aorwood is act-ing in bad faith to the party, and has done him-this county will not be less than 7.0."

Thomas D. Gilham, ordinary Oglethorpe county says: "Norwood won't get 100 white votes in this county. He has no ciaim on the democratic party. No true democrat will support him."

George H. Lester, clerk superior court, says: "Of course I'm for Colquitt, and he will carry this county by 1,000 majority. Our people don't want any star chamber candidate."

Dr. R. J. Willingham, says: "I was formerly against Colquit; but I am solid for him now. He is undeniably the people's choice. I believe

Mr. R. G. Johnson, a highly influential citizen, says: "Norwood's record is as rotten as Garfield's. His candidacy is the bastard offspring of disappointment and hatred. Colquitt's majority in this county will reach 1.800."

Hon. J. M. Smith, repretentative in the legislature, says: "Every democrat should vote for Colquitt; Jr. W. Williams, for Colquitt; Dr. J. Rumphries, for Colquitt; H. M. Williams, for Colquitt; Jr. T. A. Rooney, for Norwood; George and Lorenzaize the grand old democratic party. Oglethorpe will go overwhelmingly for Colquitt."

Colonel John T. Hurt, one of our most prominent farmers, says: "Our people don't want any salary grab governor," we want a good, honest, efficient governor and Colquit is that man. He will carry this county by 1,60 majority."

I have interviewed not less than 100 prominent citizens of Oglethorpe county, and they express the same sentiments, and opinions as the gentleman above mentioned. These visits were made with the view of determining the values made of the apparently conflicting testimony relating to the rate of speed and the injury to the ergine and car. The engine and car was found not badily injured, indicating a low rate of speed at the time of the accident. Careful examination proves the road to be fully equipped in all modern appliances for safe railroading. The general management of this road is good. Those in authority exercise great care in selecting employes capable of understanding and with ability to perform duties required of them. We believe from the testimony presented that the following named persons (name's mentioned) came to their death from a collision at May's Landing, on the Jersey, railroad, which might have been prevented if Engineer Atken and Conductor Hoogland had more carefully observed the rules and regulations of the company governing the running of trains. In the present action of this verdict we are unanimous."

READING, PA., August 23.—A great sensation has been caused throughout Berks county by the discovery of Benjamin Zuchler, a lunatic who had been confined in a house in Albany township by his brother, Jacob Zuchler, for 27 years. When found he was chained to the floor in a small house built specially for him and in a room about 8 feet square with only one window for ventilation. This chamber was in a shocking state of filth, it being a foot thick on the floor. The man was perfectly nude, and in the entire 27 years had never been washed, combed or shaved. The madman made a desperate resistance when the officers attempted to remove him, but he was subsequently taken to the insane asylum. The case is to be investigated by the authorities.

Hon, William E. Forster, chief secretary for Ireland, replying to an inquiry in the house of commons to-day, stated that the government does not think it necessary to ask for exceptional powers for the preservation of peace and the protection of life and property in Ireland. They don't know, he said, whether they can rely during the coming autumn and winter t-pon the common law. They don't frear an uprising, but the condition of the country is precarious, and should the necessity arise the government would not heefstate to summon the parliament ip, order to obtain additional powers, but they don't think the occasion likely to arise.

Mr. Mitchell Henry moved an adjournment for the purpose of raising a debate on the use of buckshot by the police at Dungannon, which he strongly denounced.

Mr. Forster said the government was responsible for that action. It had authorized the use of buckshot as more humane than balls. The police had only fired upon and charged rioters when absolutely necessary. If they had not done so Dungannon would have been sacked.

Geneva, August 23 — A journal published here, entitled 'The United States of E: rope," contains a letter from Herr Buehler, a member of the German parliament, to the president of the international league of peace and liberty, and the president's reply thereto. Herr Buehler expresses the idea that in order to dispet the distrust of the German people and to insure the preservation of peace, France ought to spontaneously put forth a manifesto pronouncing clearly in favor of peace. The president replied that France cannot thus raiffy the conquest of Alsace and Lorraine, and moreover such a declaration on her part would be null in effect, because Alsace-Lorraine itself, should be asked whether she desires to be German, French, or autonomous. The latter course is hopeless, and there is one reason for their supporting Governor Col₄nitt which seems to us almost like the voice of duty. Early in this month the country was shocked by the news of a peculiarly atrocious assault upon an unof-fending colored family living near Atlanta. A gan of white ruffians, masked, the leader of whom had been fined for previous brutality to one of the victims, attacked his cabin by night, dragged him and his aged wife out and beat them unmercifully, shot their married daughter dead in bed beside her little ones, and seriously wounded her brother. "In no country—in no section—under no circumstances," said The Atlanta Constitution, "has there ever been a more horrible crime committed." The assassins were recognized in spite of their disguise and arrested, and a report having reached Governor Colquitt that their friends intended a rescue, he took the Gate city Guard, a local troop, to the adjoining town of Jonesboro, brought away the prisoners and lodged them in the Atlanta jail. Such an act deserves acknowledgment and the more specific the sorves acknowledgment and the more specific the better. test. The best talent in the west is trying to persuade the hesitating hoosier one way or the other. It is said that enormous sums of money have already been poured into the state. The extreme confidence of both sides is amusing. Somebody will be wofully disappointed in October. The republicans are trying to raise a howl against Franklin Landers, the democratic candidate for governor, by declaring that while in the state senate during the war he fought Governor Morton's policy, and voted for a resolution restricting Indiana's appropriation to the war fund. This warfare has not accomplished much. The record has been greatly perverted, and the best informed men I met predicted Lander's election by a good majority.

men 1 met predicted Lander's election by a good majority.
We reached Chicago about one o'clock Monday morning, having been delayed five hours by our neavy train. The Atlanta party found pleasant apartments prepared for them at the Clifton, a hotel, which among other advantages, afforded a full view of Tuesday's grand parade.
Weary as we were we were destined to sleep little. Every descent of soft repose was frightened off by the strains of a brass band as some new commandery arrived band as some new commandery arrived in the city. The hotel was on the street leading from most of the depots to street leading from moet of the depots to the grand encampment where 8,000 knights were to find places. They all come by our hotel. Every commandery had a brass band and a drum major. The best we could do was to lie close to the windows and enjoy the pageants as they passed along the brilliant avenue.

Monday was strent in preparation for Tuesday's grand fete. Some of the Atlanta party visited the encampment on the lake side where 1,500 snowy tents were filled with a gay throng of knights and ladies from all parts of America. The most attractive spartments here were those occupied by the California Knights, a royal set of old fellows.

the robbery to its source, and arrested two small negro boys. Bill Clayon and John Carr, as the perpetrators.

At first they denied all knowledge of the crime, but finally one of them admitted that he was implicated in the deed. He told Officer Goodson that he and four other boys were standing in an alley awaiting the extinguishing of the street lamps in order to enter the store. They saw the police put out the lights, and whilst one of the party followed him and another kept watch at the corner, the remaining three entered the store and secured several boxes of cigars, some cigarettes, tobacco, etc.

In addition to the above information he also gave the names of the others implicated in the crime, and before another issue of The Constitution their arrests will doubtless be made.

Proposed Addition to the Government of Atlanta.

ATLANTA, August 19.—Editors Constitution: There abould be no division of sentient among our citizens about the wisdom and practical benefits of carrying out you ment among our citizens about the wisdom and practical benefits of carrying out your admirable suggestions concerning city street commissioners. In this matter you are advocating a reform which has already been been too long neglected. The system of street supervision which has obtained with us, confided wholly to a committee of council, composed of estimable citizens, it is true, but of gentlemen whose personal affairs necessarily call for their first and best attention, has proven a most unastisfactory one. A city in its growing and progressive era has but few interests to conserve that are of more importance than its health and its highways. In municipal coonomy these two are twin interests and must be looked after at one and the same time. Unwholesome streets and filthy gutters, foul sewers and poisonous drains are the breedt: g pisces of disease, contagion and death. These facts have been too often and too ably discussed in your editorial columns to need elaboration or reaffirmation here.

I want only to meet your suggestions with the tender of a well-digested and practical system to meet the energency you rightly say is upon the city. Some two years ago, with the earful assistance of Judge John L. Hopkins, and after a thorough study upon our part of the best city charters we could procure, I presented to the citizens, through your columns, the inclosed act amendatory of the city charter. Notice was given of an application to the legislature to pass the act, but on consultation, other seemingly more pressing amendments were advanced and this act reserved for adoption at a later period.

You will observe that it is a complete system of supervision for the nublic streets were advanced and this act reserved for adoption at a later period.

You will observe that it is a complete system of supervision for the public streets and the public health, by the same commission. I believe that you will do the public a favor by republishing the proposed act; and I make this suggestion the more consideration of this important subject, I have found no amendments to make to it that would seem to reader it a better system-than it appears upon its face. Yours truly,

RECORDER'S RECEPTION.

The audience was slim yesterday, the excises brief and the business light. A very black laundress appeared before the bench and stated to his honor that she had done and stated to his honor that she had done some washing for a young bar keeper, but upon taking his ciothes to him he remarked that there was too much bluing in 'em, and cursed her quite violently. This barkeeper, who was on trial said that Cornelia, for such was her front name, had cursed him first, and gave some very bad names purporting to have fallen from her dark lips. Whereupon indigmantly said she "longed to Friendship Baptist church, and never made use of no such 'spression." She confessed, however, that when he criminated her, she freely denounced him as a 'white-headed rascal." This part of her evidence was promptly corroborated by an exceedingly small girl with deep emotion. The case was dismissed.

Kitty Bass, a painfully thin semi-buff, stood up. Alice Burke, short and round I and elderly, testified that Kitty was her child; that in the course of a family quarrel Kitty had handled her roughly; gotten she recovered her equilibrium she had smoothed back Kitty's left eye-brow with a little sick of wood. Lucy Stevens, a tail, dark, yes, very dark, girl, in a faded pink calico, gave in some conflicting testimony, when his honor announced that he would fine mother and daughter five dollars each. At this the fat parent whimpered, 'I think At this the fat parent whimpered, "I think you're doin' wrong, judge," and was immediately persuaded to retire to the rear chamber. Kitty paid her own fine, and left her mother to her fate—the quarry.

THE SILVER STATE.

Yesterday Mr. Andrew Bates returned Atlanta after a three months stay in Cold rado. He is enthusiastic over the silve rado. He is enthustastic over the silver state, and gives glowing accounts of its prosperity. In conversation with a Consti-tution reporter he was asked: "On the whole, what do you think of Colorado?" "It is a glorious country. Indeed, the finest country I have ever seen." "Where did you spend most of your time there?"

"To what amount?"

"Six of us bought thirteen sites. I was made president of the company. In honor of my old home, I named it 'The Atlanta Silver Mining company.' In these sites and other mines I invested about $75,000.

"They yield from $100 to $20 000 per ton of ore. A mine which yields $5,000 per ton is considered a very rich mine, but they say that the R E Lee has yielded as high as $20,000 a torr. "Is the country not rather wild and disgreeable?"
"Not at all. There are plenty of nice people there. They seem, however, to put a high value on financial ability. As soon as a man gets rich they elect him to some flice. Teller made a fortune and they sent

"It is hard to tell. Immigration flows in so fast that it may be changed in a day. Both sides claim it, but I believe the Hancock men are most hopeful."

"Is the state growing fast?"

"Very. Leadville has 20,000 people. Denver has 30 000, and is a finer city than Atlanta. An English company has just completed a splendid marble hotel there much finer than any we have."

"Are there many Georgians there?"

"A great many, and they all seem to be doing well A Columbus man named Grant has the largest smelting works in America

"Do you know," said he, "that I brought the first circus to Atlanta that cause here after the wa!? Well, I did, and ever since theu—1866—I have been a constant visitor to Atlanta until the last four or five years. When I first visited Atlanta I was in the show business with Chambers, and we carried a first-class show, I tell you. But then it is useless to say that, for it is a well-known fact that Haight's shows are always good, but wonderful to say that the one he represents now is the best he ever saw.

this season, and I bring a good one I tell you."

"Why, just think. We have two hundred and fifty persons in our service; one hundred and sixty-five horses, fifty of which are the best trained animais in the business. And in order to transport this monster combination we have twenty-seven coaches, built specially for our use. Each of the cars are fifty feet long and sire equal to two ordinary railroad coaches. We have our own sleepers and our own advertising cars and run thirty men in this department alone.

"Our attractions are unsurpassed and we present the grandest array of talent under American canvas."

The Sunday-school.

The meetings of the Sunday-school institute which were temporarily suspended during the absence of Mr. Courtney in attendance upon the great Sunday-school convention in London, will now be resumed. The first meeting of the new series will be held at the First Raptist church of Friday night next at 80 clock.

At this meeting the lesson will be omitted to give time for Mr. Courtney to make a full report of the great celebration and his connection there with the one hat finder of the time will be devoted to a beautiful 'service of Song,' under the direction of Professor V. T. Barnwell, chorister. It is expected that the prominent singers in all the schools will join in this service. Professor Form will be there with his cornet, and a very interesting meeting may be expected.

Last night The Constitution office was visited by an old friend and patron, and that person was none other than the well known A Haight of circus celebrity.

When he entered the office his first remark was "How do you do?" and his next "Don't you know me?"

Of course we knew him, and in a few seconds we were listening to a recount of the wonderful attractions W. C. Coup's New United Mouster Shows treemt Hurtville, where, in a short time, he was in the enj-yment of a prosperous practice. His age was twenty-two.

It is sad to see a young man fall at the very-threshold of a career of honor and usefulness, but it fills the heart with unutterable sorrow to see one so exceptionally, etile and true, and brave and good and noble dying with the rose of youth still flushing his cheek and the light of hope still filling his eye, and the future looking so bright and fair.

In common with the dead young man's In common with the dead young man's host of friends here we sorrow with the stricken family over his untimely end.

Hydrophobic Umbrella.

A telegraphist was wending his way home Sunday evening, umbrella in hand. We promised not to tell his name and we vo '.' for fear he will Pet us. This telegraphist met an irate dog, who with uncovered teeth and deep bass growls, was advancing on him. The dog struck the umbrella sbout midway between the handle and the other end, and soon that umbrella was a perfect wreck. Is the confusion created by the dog entangled in the umbrella, our telegraphist retreated in good order, leaving the dog in possession of the field and umbrella. The dog having no use for it left it, but the telegrapher is fearful of its breaking at with hydrophobia and has entered it up as a dead loss.

Luia's Luck-

Yesterday evening Lula Craig got gloriously drunk and started out to take Decatur street, and had her success been commensurate with the amount of profabity she used she would have taken that end of town, but whilst in the zenith of her glory Officer Baild came upon the scene and carried the luckless Lula to the station-house, where she meditated over her sins. Subsequently she was released upon bond for her appearance to-day.

A State Case. Last night Officer Martin succeeded i arresting Robert Fambrough, a negro man, on a warrant charging him with larceny from the house.

Fambrough is supposed to be the third who stole some jewelry from Mr Perry Chisholu's house one night last week, men tion of which was made at the time in The Constitution.

ONSTITUTION.

He is now in the calaboose awaiting a nvestigation, which he will have to day Rocked the Car Shed.

Rocked the Car Shed.

Last night a crowd of negro boys and girls filled their pockets with rocks and, climbing to the top of the building at the corner of Alabama and Loyd streets, where the colored military are holding a fair, began rocking the car shed. Watchman Porter, aided by Officers Brooks and Mahly, attempted an arrest, but were prevented from carrying it out by the disappearance of those wanted in the crowded room below.

Gone to the Better Land. Howell, Jr., died of congestion of the spine, at early age. The little bud of beauty had scarce began to unfold in its beauty, ere the Heavenly Father called thome to bloom forever in the eternal bowers above where all is Light and Love. Sometime Saturday night unknown parties entered McNaught & Scrutchiu's warehouse through a door which had been inadvertently left open, and passing through the passage way connecting the warehouse with the rear of the store proper—began boring a hole with a brace and bit through a panel in the back door. For some reason, not understood, the puncture was not completed and the thieves went away, after having left the brace and bit, a small handsaw and some screw drivers on the ground at the rear of the store. These tools were picked up Sunday afternoon by Mr. Duffy, who works next door. They may be seen at the station house.
